"Airport hazard" means any structure or tree which obstructs the airspace required for the flight of aircraft in landing or taking-off at an airport, or any use of land which creates a dangerous condition, including the placement of strong lights which blind pilots during such operations.

"Airport purpose" means the declaration of an airport as either a private, public, or quasi-public airport, as defined in this section, by the owner of the airport.

"Character or type of airport" means the structural nature of an airport's design as indicated by an instrument runway or a noninstrument runway upon it, irrespective of whether the airport is a public, private, or quasi-public airport.

(a) Any person desiring or planning to construct, establish, or operate a proposed airport shall, prior to its construction or operation, make application to the director for his approval of the site.

(b) Each application for the approval of an airport site shall indicate the purpose for which approval is desired; that is, whether it will be a private airport, a public airport, or a quasi-public airport; and the character or type of airport proposed. It shall further state that:

- (1) The site is adequate for the character or type of airport proposed and has no substantial airport hazard upon it or within its vicinity. As to any other airport hazards thereupon or therein, the application shall concisely state their location, nature, and degree.
- (2) The use of land within any zone established pursuant to chapter 11 under this title and applicable to the character or type of airport proposed or within its vicinity shall conform to the use restrictions prescribed by that chapter.

as may be applicable to the character or type of airport proposed.

- (4) The operation, flight, and maneuvering of aircraft approaching and taking off from the proposed airport can conform to the minimum standards of safety required therefor by the general operating and flight rules prescribed by part 91 of the Federal Aviation Regulations.
- (5) Safe and compatible air traffic patterns can be or have been worked out for the proposed airport and all existing airports and approved sites in its vicinity.

The director may note on the face of the certificate that the approval is subject to any reasonable conditions he may deem necessary to effectuate the purpose of these rules.
