FOR CHILDREN

- Increase being seen by drivers. Wear something reflective on your costume (nothing flammable).
- Carry a flashlight to light your way safely and help others see you.
- Walk, not run from house to house and use the sidewalk if available, rather than walk in the street.
- Watch out for cars, trucks and low-flying brooms before entering the street. Remember it may be hard for drivers to see you.
- Look for cars at driveways before crossing.
- Don't stop on the streets to check your treats. Have your parents do it at home when you meet. (Immediately report obviously tampered items and give it to police.)
- Limit your trick-or-treating to your own neighborhood. Trick-or-treat only at the homes that have porch lights on.
- Remember to say, "Thank You!" to the people who give treats and to the drivers who let you cross the street.

FOR PARENTS

- Use a pre-planned, well lighted trick-or-treat route.
- Escort your children or designate a responsible older child to accompany the trick-or-treaters.
- Drive safely. Watch out for children when backing out of driveways. Use your headlights early and drive well below the posted speed limit.
- Leave your porch light on if you plan to participate in the festivities. Keep your walkways to your front porch clear.
- Give only commercially wrapped treats, coupons, gift certificates or coins.
- Inspect all treats brought home.
